

From the Nest

2009-2010

Eagle Athletic and Art News

11/17/09

SHHH . . . CAN YOU HEAR THOSE BASKETBALLS

DRIBBLING?---It is that time, once again, and St. Ann players are well into practicing for the opening games in the diocese on Saturday, December 5. This season, we have 7 teams and 70 players, from Grades 3-8 participating, not to mention a slew of enthusiastic coaches ready and willing to instruct, support, and promote Eagle basketball---this Athletic Director considers herself blessed! Our Varsity teams, in fact, have already participated in a charity event, the John G. Mann Tournament sponsored by Youth, Inc., this past weekend. GO EAGLES!

WRESTLING, TOO!---Jason Gardner, Stephen Richey, William Howe, Curtis Turnmyre, and Alex Boozer are currently representing St. Ann on the Nashville Catholic Wrestling team hosted by Father Ryan High School. What a character-building sport: you, your opponent, and the mat! And, believe me, that is a long 6 minutes! Good luck, fellas!

CHEER TEAM ROLLS ON---In a slightly different role . . . not resting on their laurels from an outstanding Diocesan Competition performance, these girls won't miss a beat in their support of our Varsity basketball teams. Though, this time they'll be on the sidelines, I'm sure we will know that THEY ARE IN THE HOUSE! Thanks in advance, girls!

CLIMB ON, EAGLES---Students in 7th and 8th Grades recently attended a fun, informational session led by Evan Barnett from Climb Nashville. Located in our own Sylvan Park neighborhood, this climbing facility offers another way for our young folks to get fit and keep moving! He assures me that it isn't upper body strength that makes a good climber but lower body strength and lots of strategy! 8th Grader Maisie Blaufuss had been enjoying the sport for a couple of years and endorses it wholeheartedly! Contact Evan at evan@nashvilleschoolofclimbing.com for more information.

